We love How To Train Your Dragon's team of animators at DreamWorks Animation, and now we can tell you about their latest project. Our good friend, animation supervisor Greg Farshtey, has been overseeing the life-size flying duck which is featured in the movie. He's worked on several films at DreamWorks and told us that there's "something different" about How To Train Your Dragon 2. How To Train Your Dragon, we see a lot of flying/flying animals, but this one is different. Greg says: "The flying duck scene plays out on a different sort of island than we've seen in the past, Greg explained, and is the only time a dragon flies in the movie. "The film gets there at a different time than it gets there in the first one," he said. "We came up with a new island that is very much inspired by the history of dragons. There's a huge amount of math involved in doing that, but it's really cool." Advertisement How To Train Your Dragon 2 is a coming-of-age story about H 82157476af
